SUN BEAMS

By WALTER M. BARRETT

Wonder what ever happened to those 3000 or more vacationists, who, according to a representative of the Sacramento Credit Union here last spring selling advertising, were to have made Truckee headquarters while vacationing at Lake Tahoe. Are they late in arriving or did we miss them in the busy weeks of the summer?

Despite the action of the Truckee Outing Club in authorizing its officers to secure a loan for promotion of winter sports during the coming winter, local supporters of civic activities have not been relieved of the annual donations which have made winter sports here possible. As a matter of fact this loan, if obtained, must be repaid and these annual donations are expected to care for this need. The money, if borrowed, however, will put winter sports here on a self-supporting basis and proceeds may be sufficient to aid in retiring the debt. The club had high hopes of obtaining financial aid from the Southern Pacific company, but this help was not forthcoming and Truckee once more learned that it stands alone and must carry on single handed. It is now, as it has always been, right up to the Truckee public, the business men and others, to sink or swim—we are still on our own.

Someone suggested the other day that the Southern Pacific be asked to apply a coat of paint to its depot and hotel here. We believe it would add greatly to the appearance of the town and heartily approve the suggestion. Incidentally this same treatment would apply on other buildings here.

And by the way, don't think we are overlooking the still crying need for some action in cleaning up the streets and alleys. From the action being taken we might as well keep silent, but every so often we enjoy a "waste of printing". Conditions are certainly not improved since last year and it has begun to look like nothing short of a good snow storm will cover our disgraceful appearance in the alley back of Commercial Row and on the main street itself. We'll be seein' it next spring.

Summer officially ended today. The fall season is upon us and we don't need the calendar to tell us that. Thermometers this week dropped down to 28 degrees above zero, while the days are shortening and the nights are stretching out. We have enjoyed a good summer from every standpoint, business has been good, the weather has been nearly perfect and all in all we have a lot for which to be thankful. It's too bad we are not able to enjoy the fruitful summers 12 months in the year, but we are not, and therefore must give thought to the many dull months of the year. Naturally we all enjoy the summers and summer activities more than the winters, but nevertheless, we have our winters and must provide for them. A definite program of winter sports is the one and only thing that we have to offer outsiders during the coming season and whether we favor the winters and winter sports or not, we must realize that that's all there is-there isn't any more.

CALIFORNIA HAS BUSINESS INCREASE

Compared with July of this year, employment gained 8.7 per cent and payrolls increased 7.1 per cent. Average employe earnings, however, declined 1.5 per cent.

Buck Far More Scarce Than Stories As Hundreds Comb Mountains During Week

If there were one-tenth of the number of deer killed as there are stories told of various and sundry experiences of hunters, there would be a vast over abundance of venison in Truckee.

For instance, there is the story of the lad who was stalking the brush when a six-pointer stepped into his view and stopped broadside a stones throw away. The hunter succumbed to a severe siege of "buck fever" and couldn't raise his gun to the firing position. If a buck can smile, no doubt this one did as he sauntered off unmolested.

Then we heard of the local boy who bagged his buck, put his kill across his back and started toward his car. Although he had never sung a note before, he could be heard for a mile. lustily carroling to prevent some careless hunter from taking a pot shot at the buck he had on his shoulder.

Two others were reported to have alighted from their car one morning this week and no sooner done so than two fine bucks stopped not 50 yards distant. They watched the animals too long and then had two running shots which failed to bring down either animal. A mild attack of the current malady.

While he watched the flight of a flock of quail, another local hunter was surprised to notice again too late that a fine buck had been doing the same thing as himself. When the hunter turned his attention to the game at hand, the buck left hurriedly for other parts. The quail earned the oaths hurled after them.

Notwithstanding all those missed, there were hundreds of bucks killed in this area during the past week. More than 20 came from the Weber Lake district alone, while even more were reported from Euer Valley. The Floriston and Boca areas surrendered a large crop while in every direction from Truckee hunters reported luck—good, bad and mediocre.

More than 1000 licenses have been sold in Truckee alone, indicating the number of huntsmen, who have been scouring the hills and searching the brush for the elusive buck.

Truckee Man Is Married Here At Parents' Home

William Englehart, Jr., Weds Miss Irene Brown At Local Home

Reverend Ernest Everett of the Truckee Community Church united Miss Irene Brown of Pasadena and William Englehart, Jr., in marriage at a lovely wedding service performed last Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock before the fireplace at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Englehart, Sr.

The bride was attractive in a gown of white satin and the traditional veil supported by a cap. Her bouquet was composed of gardenias and lillies of the valley.

Golden Gladioli were arranged on each side of the fireplace, lending a soft glow to the surroundings.

As the wedding march,, rendered by Mrs. Lotta Bryant who had played the same selection at the wedding of the bridegroom's parents, was heard, the bride descended the long stairway with Benjamin Callender who gave her in marriage in the absence of her father, J. A. Brown of Pasadena.

Miss Hazel Brown attended her sister while Arthur Chloupeck acted as best man.

The nuptial rites and recepiton which followed were attended by close friends and relatives of the couple.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Delaney accompanied the newlyweds to Grass Valley where they dined before Mr. and Mrs. Englehart continued to San Francisco and Los Angeles for a wedding trip.

Mrs. Englehart's home has been in Pasadena although she has been spending several months in this vicinity and at Homewood at Lake Tahoe.

PLANS OUTLINED TO HAVE WINTER SPORTS PROGRAM

Club Will Borrow Money For Purpose Of Adding Facilities

TO ASK DONATIONS

Completion Of Ice Pond Held Most Important Of All Projects

Faced with the necessity of financing, without outside assistance, a winter sports program in Truckee, if one is to be programmed, members of the Truckee Outing Club meeting here Tuesday evening decided to negotiate a loan, if possible to carry on the project this winter.

Recently assistance was solicited from the Southern Pacific and although some officials of the company apparently favored the plan, others could not be induced to cooperate in the undertaking. This left the promotion of the sports entirely in the hands of local interests.

Under the proposed plan, the loan will be asked immediately and will amount to approximately $5000. This sum was found necessary to provide a solid foundation for the ice pond, replacement of the toboggan slide, additional skiis, skates and other equipment and necessary facilities.

It had been hoped to be able to install an up-ski pull and prepare a ski run from Pinacle Point, but this was decided to be too expensive at the present time and was dropped.

The loan ,if secured, must be repaid through donations, revenue from facilities and membership fees. As in the past years, the businessmen and others who benefit from the conduct of the winter sports will be asked to share in retiring the loan by annual subscriptions.

Providing the loan can be secured, it is proposed to name a finance committee from the directors or members of the Outing Club for the purpose of authorizing any expenditure and to audit bills.

A budget will be prepared prior to the time the loan is asked, setting forth the purposes for which various sums are required, it was determined.

While the $5000 will not go far in supplying equipment and other facilities, it was decided that it would suffice until such time as a more permanent program can be arranged.

It was stipulated at the meeting Tuesday that all money expended this fall would be for facilities of a permanent nature, equipment which can be used most exclusively for obtaining revenue and be usable for years to come.

Charles White, president of the Outing Club presided at Tuesday's meeting, which was attended by a good sized group of directors and members.

NEWSPAPER WEEK

Some people may regard Newspaper Week, the seven-day period beginning October 4, as "just another week". But they will be in error, for newspapers are safeguards of democracy and freedom. They play a vital part in everyone's daily life, and Newspaper Week helps call attention to this role.

No force in America has yet successfully challenged newspapers as a medium of reliable news communication. Through their daily and weekly columns citizens may feel the pulse of the fast moving stream of history in foreign lands and throughout the nation.

Through newspapers, communities are knit together. United, communities are better able to fight for the civic, social and economic betterment of their members. Even the simplest items of news, telling of a birth, or wedding, or death, gives to each of us a sense of identity, a certain feeling of fellowship with our neighbors and the town we live in. And that spirit of kinship, that understanding of the joys, successes, or misfortunes of our fellowman is an essential characteristic of wholesome government and a healthy community.

Because of the advertising columns of newspapers, our lives are better ordered. Advertisements save us money and energy, by telling us exactly the place and price of goods we want to buy. An advertisement makes a short-cut through time for us.

Thus, on the economic, social and political front, newspapers play a vital part in everyone's life. It is truly a responsibility. That California's newspapers have carried it so well, that they are the most unfettered of any nation's, seems just reason for Newspaper Week!

AMERICA FIGHTS FIRE

It's with good reason that a special week, October 3 to 9, has been set aside to arouse the nation to the horror, the tragic waste, the needlssness of fire losses.

Read this grim score-board of fire losses:

Fire claims 10,000 lives annually!

Fire ravages homes, buildings, and precious forested areas, to the sum of $500,000,000 very year!

Farm fire losses amount to approximately $100,000,000 annually—almost 30 per cent of the entire national loss! This staggering total is the exact equivalent of a $16 tax on every farmer in the United States.

All of us know our economic primer well enough to see that waste constitutes a loss that everyone, to some degree, wll have to make good. But have all of us learned that primer well enough to remember that fire losses are also a form of waste? And that the costs of this waste fatten our tax assesments annually? Intelligent self-interest should make all of us enemies of the negligence that breeds fire.

Let community leaders map out a fire prevention program based on local requirements. Let surveys be made of the building or electrical codes, of the organization and equipment of the fire department or volunteer corps. Let the effectiveness of spreading fire alarm by street-box systems or the telephone be determined.

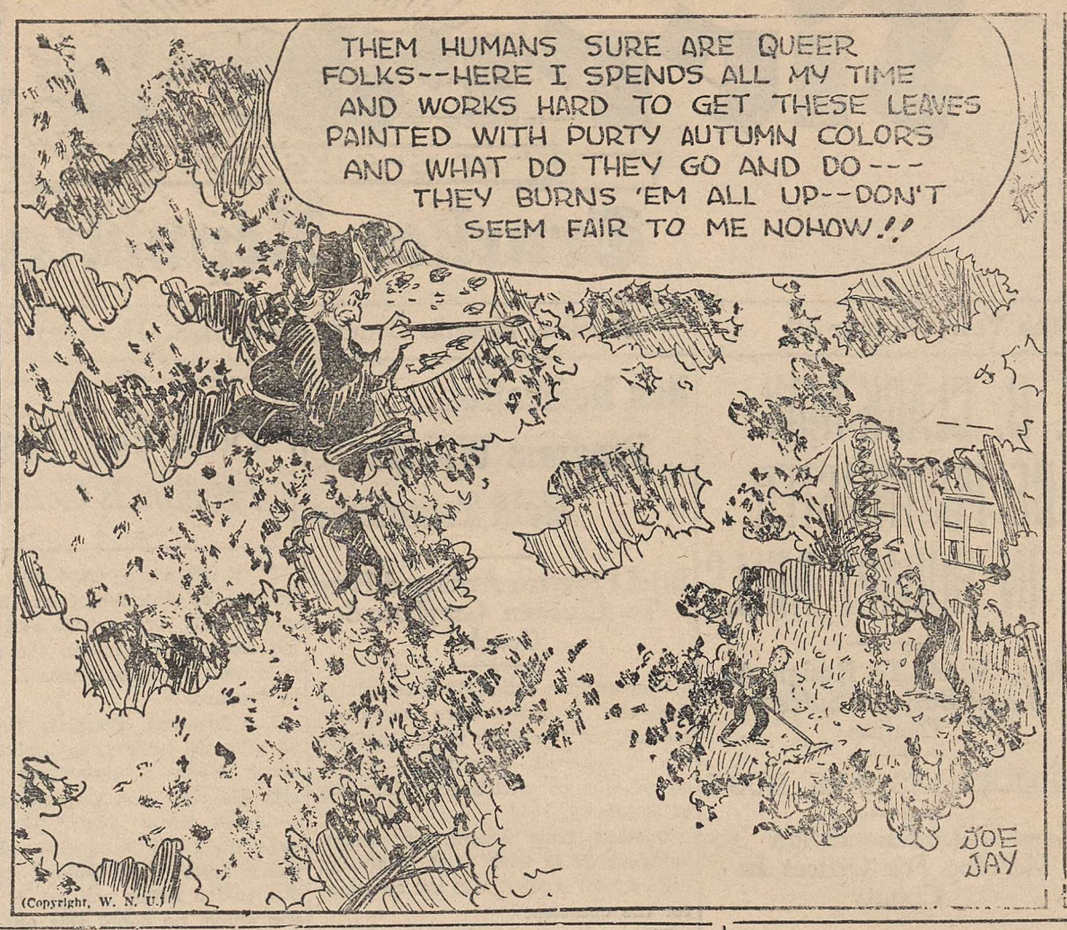
Fire prevention week is almost here. Let's protect our homes and buildings now—instead of picking up charred skeletons from burned wreckage later. Now is the time to fight fire!

"KICK-OFF"

A month ago he was just an ordinary, grunting porker, noticed by scarcely anyone.

Today he's a sleek, gleaming pigskin, catapulting through the air—a shiny bag of inflated bladder that millions of eyes will eagerly follow from now till New Year's day at the Rose Bowl.

Poor Old Jack Frost!



THEM HUMANS SURE ARE QUEER FOLKS--HERE I SPENDS ALL MY TIME AND WORKS HARD TO GET THESE LEAVES PAINTED WITH PURTY AUTUMN COLORS AND WHAT DO THEY GO AND DO--- THEY BURNS 'EM ALL UP--DON'T SEEM FAIR TO ME NOHOW!!

(Copyright, W. N. U.)

It's football time, and the little porker has come into his own. Up and down the State, seasoned college and high-school gridironers are limbering up their limbs, blocking, tackling, and hurling themselves against dummy-sacks. Young hopefuls, hungering for the honor of a "letter," dreaming of a wild roar of cheers as they dart like a gazelle through interference and dash across the goal for a touchdown, are likewise drilling and sweating.

The Monday morning quarterbacks are sagely assessing the season's prospects, for the whistle is ready to blow. There's the cry of "Kick-off!"

"I believe the young folks are calling!"

campaign and is credited in some quarters with electing McAdoo to the senate. He has not decided definitely whether he will enter the fight, but a wide rift in his relations with his one-time compatriot, plus other rumors, strenghten indications he will.

His friends feel certain he can whip McAdoo in the south, where a majority of the vote lies. Thus McAdoo's strength with northern California's minority might be the deciding factor, they believe.

The others heard Wiley fire a shot and then two shots as a signal that he had fired at a deer. After waiting for sometime for Wiley to return the men started to locate him, and then darkness came and they hadn't found Wiley, the rest of the party came to town after flashlights, and a searching party was organized and about ten men left for the scene. Returning to town at ten o'clock to see if Wiley came into town and had never caught up to the deer he shot and became confused in the woods when darkness came, and built a fire and remained out until daylight, when he got his bearings and started to walk into town. Mr. Wiley spent the night on the Little Truckee River in the vicinity of Bickford Meadows.

ACCUSED VIOLATORS OF GAME LAWS ARE NABBED NEAR TAHOE

Tahoe City, Sept. 23—The first violators of the local hunting laws in the Tahoe region since the opening of deer season on Sept. 16 were apprehended on Saturday by Captain of patrol A. H. Willard of Nevada City and his assistant, Taylor London, Colusa deputy warden.

The offenders were four Indians who reside near near the "Y" at Bijou ,on the south end of the lake. The men were arraigned before Justice of the Peace George R. Bliss of Tahoe City.

Emery and Seymour Arnott, two brothers pleaded guilty to charges of transferring deer tags while Manuel and Tom Filmore, son and father respectively are said to have admitted hunting without licenses.

The warden declared one of the two bucks found in their possession, a four pointer, had already been dissected, Indian style, and the horns cut off before bringing it in. A third buck was said to have been killed and left in the hills above Blackwood Creek, where the men were hunting. Judge Bliss fined each defendant $25 remitting $15 of the fine and retaining their guns as security when they were unable to pay. In Nevada Indians are allowed to hunt without licenses, but not so in California.

DENIAL MADE OF REPORTED SALE OF TAHOE ESTATE

(by Swanee)

Tahoe City, Sept 23—Two weeks ago we sent in an item for publication in the Tahoe News column of the Sierra Sun regarding the reported sale of Idlewild, the Herbert Fleishacker estate at Tahoe. In the mails of the following week we received a letter from Mr. H. T. Thompson, San Francisco attorney for the estate, informing us that the announcement was erroneous and that no foundation existed for the authority for such a statement. He requested that an absolute denial be published, which we hasten to grant in compliance with his wishes, but feel that in fairness to all concerned an explanation is due our readers, as accuracy has always been our foremost aim.

Mrs. W. A. Godwin is the former Mrs. Herbert Scott of Squaw Valley and a sister to Mrs. Stella Watson of Tahoe City. For a number of years she was a respected resident of the Truckee-Tahoe region and has many friends and relatives here. She came to Tahoe Inn over the recent holiday week end with her little daughter and a friend of the child's Arriving at Tahoe she herself openly informed friends that she and her husband had not only purchased a large ranch home near Oroville but had also bought the Herbert Fleishacker estate 'Idlewild' at Tahoe Pines. She spoke freely of the transaction, even intimating that they would retain the present caretakers employed on the place. Included in the sale she declared, was the cruiser 'Idlewild' which accomodated 35 persons.

We checked carefully our source of information and having no reason to doubt the integrity of the persons involved sent in the story.

We sincerely regret the inaccuracy of the report.

PONTIAC CAR SETS NEW ENDURANCE MARK

MUROC, Sept. 23—Ted Ellis, well-known West Coast test driver, today completed a 24-hour endurance run on Muroc Dry Lake driving his own stock car, a Pontiac eight-cylinder convertible coupe. Ellis made 2004 miles and averaged 83-½ miles per hour.

Just prior to this 24-hour endurance run Ellis drove the same car from Vancouver, B. C., Canada to Tia Juana, Mexico during which he established the high fuel economy of the Pontiac car.

Go North—

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Loynd left last week for a vacation trip. Their itinerary is said to include Portland, Oregon; Seattle, Washington and probably points of interest in Canada.

TAHOE REGION NEWS

By Swanee

Tahoe . . . . Ramblings . .

(By SWANEE)

Albert Henry Jr. writes from the California State College at San Luis Obispo that his studies, which include eleven subjects, keep him occupied from 8 A. M. until 5 P. M. each day. Aeronautics and automotive mechanics are his special subjects.

Otto Fox of Auburn was in town on Saturday rounding up his young charges for music lessons. Despite the departure of a number of older orchestra members, the local unit is receiving new pupils which will maintain the high standard set by their capable instructor.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Heller of Meek's Bay departed on Monday for a motor trip of three weeks to the state of Kansas. They plan to visit with relaivtes and friends they have not seen for years and will return home via the southern route.

Earl Weyhe and party of Santa Rosa spent the week end in the Rubicon valley district hunting. While there they sighted at a distance five fine big bucks but failed to bag any to take home.

Major and Mrs. Charles Kenrick and family have closed their summer home at Tahoe Park and departed for San Francisco after having enjoyed the summer at Tahoe.

The attractive stone entrance to Dr. C. B. Pedersen's Tahoe Park home was enchanced last week by the installation of a port and starboard light on the gate, the red and green beams proving highly pleasing at night.

Dr. and Mrs. Gerald Gray of San Francisco have returned home from a week's pack trip back into the Buck Lake region where fishing and hunting was indulged. We could not learn the measure of their success.

Latest reports from the bedside of Mrs. Eugene Re who underwent an operation in a Reno hospital last week for appendicitis, indicated that she was recuperating satisfactorily.

Prusso's Forest Inn will be the scene of a gala celebration on Saturday evening next, Sept. 25th, when another 'Tahoe Night' party will be held. Confetti, serpentine and toy balloons will add a festive New Year atmosphere and dancing will follow serving of the special featured dinner which starts at 7 p. m. Many of those who attended 'Tahoe Night' last year and enjoyed a 'colossal' evening have already made reservations for this season's biggest event. While Prusso's has been enjoying a brisk and sustained patronage throughout the late summer season Mr. Prusso announced this week that he has set the closing date of his popular creekside inn for October 16th.

Miss Anne Park is anticipated at the Tahoe Park home of her mother Mrs. Hardy Clark Park around Sept. 28th, the young lady having arrived in New York last week from an extended tour of Europe with members of her family. The two brothers who accompanied her will remain in the east, Howard Jr. to attend school in Pennsylvania and Charles "Bim" Edward to continue his education in Connecticut. Mrs. Park spent several days last week at the home of her brother, Edward H. Clark Jr. in San Mateo where she combined business with pleasure.

Joe Henry Sr. was a visitor for several days in San Francisco this week on business.

Mrs. Annie Soll of Pine Lodge last week was the victim of an unusual accident which fortunately left her unharmed. Some weeks ago the Soll car was struck in the rear by that of William Lambert of Tahoe Park as he drove out onto the highway by his home, the car being whirled around in the road. Last week while returning home from school with her two daughters Mary Jane and Alice, Mrs. Soll was terrified to see the rear wheel of her car go sailing by her on the highway at a terrific speed, rolling off into the thick underbrush more than 50 feet away. Under most trying circumstances she managed to manipulate the careening car to a standstill without injury to any of it's occupants, thanks to capable driving and cool nerves. Former injury to the rear wheel's mechanism in the previous accident is believed to have caused the accident.

HUNTS FOR DEER PROVE FRUITLESS FOR TAHOE HUNTERS

Tahoe City, Sept. 20— Mr. and Mrs. Elwyn Ames and son Jimmie of Newcastle have been visiting since Friday at the Charles Swanson home in the Sunnyside district where Mr. Ames has tried unsuccessfully to corner a buck. They left for home Monday.

Ted Cosby and Art. Sather of Auburn spent two days at Tahoe at the Swanson home enjoying a hunting trip back into the mountains which also proved fruitless. Many deer tracks have been seen all over the mountains, but very few bucks have even been sighted even at a distance. What few were jumped vanished in a cloud of dust before they were detected. Even old timers who are accustomed to bringing in the limit within the first few days of the season have not as yet met with any success.

Nominal success is being experienced by local deer hunters, Chester C. McDonald of Woodland, who has a summer home in the Timberland Tract at Tahoe, being among the first to bring in a nice 5 pointer on opening day. He got his kill in the Hell Hole region. Carl Bechdolt Sr. also got a nice buck in the same territory but his deer spoiled by the hot weather before it could be brought out.

Carlo Vanni of Tahoe City brought in a nice buck the last of the week, and Patrolman Gene Walker and his brother Tom and Nephew Bud of Rocklyn brought out a three pointer the first of the season from Blackwood Creek's upper region. Two bucks were brought down on the hill just above town but the names of the lucky hunters were not learned.

SCHOOL CHILDREN PRESENT PROGRAM AT OUTDOOR FETE

Tahoe City, Sept 23—Members of the Tahoe Lake school and faculty and children of the elementary grades enjoyed a two day encampment on Thursday and Friday of last week at the local Tahoe Fish Hatchery campgrounds just north of town. Permission was granted them by the state park department here. Under the direction of Mrs. Myrtle Gallinger and Mrs. Steinman, their teachers, tepees were raised in real Indian fashion and camping equipment arranged. A special three hour program was given during the evenings of both days and a playlet depicting the life of Hiawatha from childhood to maturity was given by the glow of a huge bonfire near the lake shore.

Miss Betty Blossom Tidwell, 13 year old Miss who has an exceptionally sweet voice for a youngster, portrayed the part of Nokomis, Cherokee maid and Hiawatha's grandmother. Stuart Pyle of Tahoe City being the young lover, Hiawatha, and Florence Nelson of Brockway taking the character of Minnie Ha Ha. Nine Indian tribes were represented by the young thespians who prepared their meals over the campground grills and slept in their blankets out under the stars.

Mrs. Portia Moss of Auburn was an out of town visitor who remained for the night. Moonlight enchanced the spectacle, as songs were sung and stories told, more than 100 townsfolk gathering to witness the unusual entertainment. Swimming, hiking, assembly and Indian games engrossed much of the two day period which proved highly successful from an educational and recreational standpoint as well.

POLITICALLY SPEAKING

crats at Stockton to resolve itself into a miniature party convention and wind up endorsing a slate of candidates favored by the McAdoo party organization.

This theory evolves from the idea that a proposed Democratic state convention at Fresno first was conceived by the McAdoo group as a means of swinging unified support behind a slate bearing the machine's sanction.

When McAdoo lieutenants decided they couldn't muster sufficient strength to accomplish this maneuver, they reversed their stand and now frown on convention proposals, reports say.

There have been subsequent indications they may steal the march on the rest of the field by quietly obtaining approval of the young Democrats for the candidates they are backing.

It is possible to get a two-to-one bet that either J. F. T. O'Conner, federal comptroller of the currency, or George Creel, former high NRA official, will be the McAdoo color bearer in the California gubernatorial race.

O'Conner has not announced publically what his intentions are, although he has admitted he is giving "serious thought" to becoming a candidate. If O'Conner does not go to the post, there is some belief that Creel will be rushed in at the last minute, despite his repeated statements he has no intention of running.

G. Johnson still silent on his plans for the campaign, another potential foeman has entered the field. He is Joseph Rosborough, Oakland postmaster from 1915 to 1924, who announced he would seek the Democratic nomination for treasurer. Johnson may decide to withdraw.

New issues as well as new candidates will appear on the 1938 ballot. One major proposal virtually certain to be listed is an initiative measure for a unicameral California legislature similiar to that of Nebraska.

The one-house legislature move received a strong boost at Long Beach when the state federation of labor convention went on record in its favor and assigned details of the plan to the federation's executive committee.

On the other side of the fence, the state chamber of commerce, the Associated Farmers and other groups have attacked the proposal on grounds it would deprive small counties and communities of legislative representation.

So-called "senate conservatism" has drawn the fire of proponents while lower house "radicalism" has provided opponents their principal ammunition.

Two old age pension organizations have begun a drive to place their plans on the ballot, The Citizens Annuity Legion of San Diego and the California Initiative Clubs, Inc., of Los Angeles both received from Attorney General U. S. Webb titles which will permit them to place their prposals on the November ballot.

An amusing story going the rounds here originated in the office of Clifford Russel, attorney for Assemblyman eGne Flint, lone defendant in the legislative bribery case.

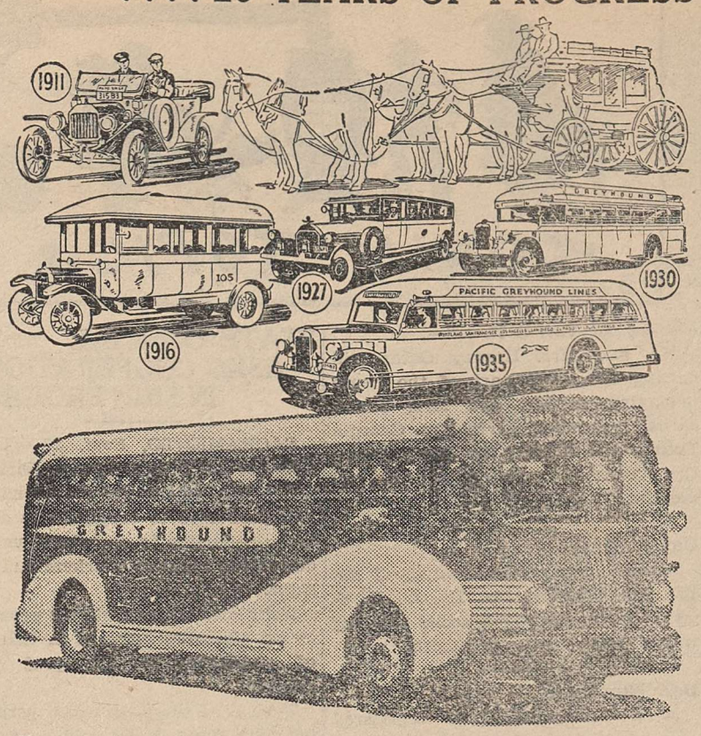
As Flint's second trial was about to start, Russel announced he would subpena State Senator Culbert L. Olson, principal in the tideland oil fight from which a grand jury bribery investigation developed Olson recently announced his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for governor.

Immediately upon reading the news, a well-known Democratic politician called Russel and inquired plaintively:

"What're you trying to do, jam Olson into this case? He just announced for governor."

"I'm not trying to jam anybody," Russell responded. "I'm simply defending Flint."

EVOLUTION OF HIGHWAY TRAVEL .... 26 YEARS OF PROGRESS



Since the days of the horse-drawn stage coaches, highway travel has always been interesting. Above are pictured various models of inter-city buses from the small jitney of 1911 to the Greyhound "Super-Coach" of today, hundreds of which are now operating over western highways and throughout the nation.

ALL TRAVEL RECORDS BROKEN IN LASSEN PARK THIS SEASON

RED BLUFF, Sept. 23—With two weeks remaining of the 1937 comparative season, in Lassen Volcanic National park, all travel records have been broken, John C. Preston, superintendant, announced.

A total of 81,121 persons visited the park from Oct. 1 to Sept. 13, exceeding the former high mark of 76,971 set during the Oct. 1, 1935 to Sept. 30, 1936 season.

NEVADA COUNTY TO HAVE MINERALS AT WORLD FAIR EXHIBIT

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 23—Assuring Nevada County's representation in the Hall of the Mineral Empire at the 1939 World's Fair in San Francisco, J. B. Dudley, chairman of the board of supervisors, today was nominated for membership on the advisory council of Mining Exhibits Inc.

Mining exhibits is a non-profit corporation formed by the nation's mining leaders to portray the importance of the mining industry and the country's mineral resources in a dramatic display at California's Golden Gate Exposition.

Ben S. Allen, executive secretary of the advisory council, announced the invitation which has been extended to the chairman of the boards of supervisors of California's mining counties.

STATE PRODUCES MINERAL WATER

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 23,—(UP)—California produced 19,348,513 gallons of mineral water during 1936, the state division of mines reported.

The production carried a value of $777,899.

VISITORS TO PARKS MUST PARK DOGS

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 23,—(UP)—Visitors to state parks must leave their dogs at home or keep them on leash, according to an opinion by Attorney General U. S. Webb.

While it is legal for bears, mountain lions, coyotes and rattlesnakes to roam the state parks, it is illegal for dogs to do so.

In the opinion asked by District Attorney Benjamin B. Knight of Santa Cruz county Webb said the penalty for having a loose dog in a state park is 90 days in the county jail or $500 fine, or both.

AIRPLANE BROADCAST IS EFFECTIVE FOR FOREST FIRE WORK

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 23,—(UP)—Broadcasting from airplanes to ground crews as a means of fighting forest fires has proved successful according to a report of the United States Forest Service on file with the state division of forestry here.

Experiments carried on by the federal government in the Stanislaus Forest have been so successful that officials believe the system may be used to direct lost persons in forests.

Voice amplifiers make it possible for ground crews to hear the instructions.

SPEED RECORD MADE BY PRINTING STATE BOOKS AT CAPITAL

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 23,—(UP)—A record for speed in completing the publication of new laws enacted by the 1937 legislature and approved by the governor was claimed by State Printer George Moore.

Copies of the statutes are now available at his department, 100 days ahead of the previous record for finishing the job, Moore said.

All of the work was done in the state printing plant here.

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 23,—(UP)—California's 83rd annual state fair engrossed $13,671.35 more receipts than the 1936 exposition even though attendance this year was 21,467 under last year's all-time high mark.

Total atendance for 1937 was 600,941, of which 56,212 was recorded on the closing day of the ten day show.

The exposition's eight-day race meet- ing also showed a substantially greater profit than that of the preceeding year. The mutuel handle hit an all-time high at $305,193 against $269,192 in 1936.

The state's four per cent cut of this sum amounted to $12,207 and the fair's eight per cent totaled $24,415.44. Breakage aggregated $5,279.19.

A financial statement prepared by Ed Deen, mutuels manager, showed that $219,196 of the money wagered this year was bet on running races against $85,997 risked on harness events.

STATE OFFICIAL ASKS COOPERATION IN SIGN PROGRAM

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 23,—(UP)—Director of Public Works Earl Lee Kelly has called upon citizens and patrol officers to cooperate in a vigorous campaign to apprehend vandals destroying highway markers and road signs.

Kelly said his appeal was prompted by an alarming increase in this type of vandalism in the past three months.

Typical of the destruction perpetrated with guns, Kelly said a recently posted U. S. numbered route was inspected two weeks after the signs were erected. All but one sign, he said, had been pierced by bullets. Fourteen slugs had blasted on a warning sign, destroying 47 of 51 reflectors. Its warning message to night drivers thus was destroyed, Kelly said.

A highway division survey has virtually exonerated legitimate hunters of causing the damage he said. The investigation showed that comparatively little of the damage occurred during hunting seasons and that most of the mutilation was done with .22 rifles, seldom used for hunting.
